A Message from the Minister

Another year has passed and again it is my pleasure to contribute to the pages of "Echoes" by extending the Greetings of the Department of Agriculture to O.S.A. students and staff.

In the present confused state of national and industrial post-war conditions, we all appreciate a word of direction and encouragement as we face our everyday tasks and plan the future. This will apply particularly to the thousands of young men and women now graduating from our schools and colleges who are launching on their life's work with all the hopefulness and anticipation of youth.

For the O.S.A. Graduating Class of 1948, what better message can I leave than that inferred in your official school motto as it appears on your O.S.A. crest?—"Opportunity, Service, Advancement." Your attendance at the School of Agriculture has been an educational opportunity that many of our country boys and girls in Alberta are not privileged to have. But making personal use of this opportunity is not enough. With education goes responsibility, and only to the extent that one is willing to render honest service in his job and to his fellows, will this responsibility be adequately discharged. With these ideals as your objectives, you may feel confident that any advancements of which you personally are deserving will surely be realized as time goes on.

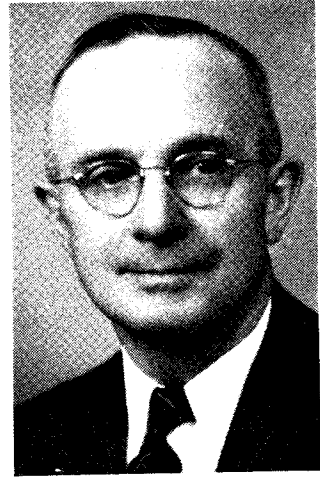

In extending heartiest good wishes for a happy, prosperous and useful career, we do so in the firm belief that your O.S.A. training and experience will prove of valuable assistance toward that end.

D. B. MacMILLAN,
Minister of Agriculture.

Some Thoughts on Graduation

The feature theme of every Year Book is "Graduation." It is the goal toward which all students aspire, some more brilliantly, some more diligently than others, from their first day at school until the last examination is written.

What is Graduation? Do we see it in its proper perspective? Let us not get off "on the wrong foot" as it were, by imagining we have scaled certain heights of knowledge and all that remains is to demonstrate our cleverness and conquer the world.

What then is Graduation in its truest sense? First it is recognition on the part of the School Staff in the form of a document called a Diploma, that one's work and study has reached certain required standards. Secondly, and of much greater importance, is a realization that the combination of all of our school experiences is a training designed to help us plan our lives more intelligently and live them more happily. With this broader viewpoint we continue to be students, ever learning something new for improvement of our own condition and that of our fellows.

Graduation therefore is only a preparation for more efficient enrollment in the greatest school of all, The School of Life. In wishing God Speed to the O.S.A. Graduating Class of 1948, I would simply quote the following lines from a poem which bears the title "Graduates"—

"Our parting is a victory, we have been
A part of all, and now our work is done;
Are leaving for the Greater School of Life
And therein is achievement and great joy."

S. H. GANDIER,
Superintendent Schools of Agriculture.

Principal's Message

Another graduation day is fast approaching. In a few "short" weeks another group will say "Good Bye" to O.S.A. and leave for home. Perhaps the majority will never set foot in class again. It is an important time in your life—possibly much more important than most of you realize. What can you credit to your net worth as a result of your course at O.S.A.

One of the most compensating features is the practical education you received and which you can commence applying immediately you return to the farm. We expect you to be equipped as a result of your course here to become better farmers and homemakers in the full sense of what that implies. Let us briefly enlarge this point.

As a graduate you should know how to select and improve livestock, and particularly you should know what livestock is best suited for you to handle on your own farm. This means that you must understand the feeding and management of that livestock together with an intelligent conception of some of the more common ailments that may affect your flocks and herds. You should know what crops to grow, how to grow them and how to rotate crops in order to prevent soil drifting, soil erosion and loss of soil fertility. As a result of the classes in Farm Mechanics and Building Construction, you will be able to effect ordinary repairs and maintenance of machinery and buildings; to build concrete that will stay built and if necessary to make plans for any new buildings required on the home farmstead. The one-way disc, diesel engine, combine and power baler should no longer represent a Chinese puzzle.

There are other valuable phases to the course in agriculture at the schools. The same applies to the course in Home Economics. The Agricultural Schools would fail in their duty if they did not send the graduates away better men and women than when you first enrolled—not only better men and women with your hands but better men and women in what makes for good citizenship and a sense of the privilege of serving others as well as selves. We expect a fair number of you graduates to become leaders in your rural communities. In carrying out this leadership you will have to use good "Practical Judgment." It is one thing to find people who have a regular storehouse of knowledge and learning but it is another thing again to find those who have practical judgment enough to use these acquirements to the best advantage. The experience of living together, working and playing together in addition to class discussions and forums should prepare you for the team work required in farming today. No longer is it a case of each farmer being a law unto himself. It is well for us to remember that each of us has a part to play in the world at large.

One more thing with regard to the graduate's responsibility. Upon the shoulders of both the men and women leaving our school lies the responsibility of leadership in home improvements upon Alberta farms. This is the most important task of all because, for the true nation dwells in the farm homes. Now that money is being made despite the increased cost of labor and machinery the question arises as to the best means of employing this revenue. The first tendency is to acquire more land before improving the present holdings. Many will buy more machinery. Some of it no doubt is needed but possibly some home improvements are more urgently required—improvements in heating, lighting and plumbing to lighten the work of the farm women.

All this sounds like a lot of advice and saddling of responsibility upon our 1948 graduates. Our faith in you will fall far short of justification if you are not equal to the task. "It's up to you; go to it!" FRED N. MILLER

Retiring Staff Members

HUGH McPHAIL

Another familiar face in the halls of O.S.A. has left his daily place in the classroom—and we miss his friendly presence among us.

Mr. McPhail joined the Staff of O.S.A. in 1931, and remained until the fall of 1945 when he decided he must devote all his time to his work as district agriculturist in the Olds district. During the 15 years that Mr. McPhail was on the Staff, he contributed much to the scholastic life of the students. In the first years, he and the late Mr. F. Dixon taught the third year classes and later when that course was discontinued he took over with Mr. Benn the teaching of Mathematics, English, and Economics.

We wish Mr. McPhail the best of luck!

ARTHUR T. KEMP

Mr. Kemp joined the school Staff in the autumn of 1922 as instructor in Horticulture and Biology. His summer work concerned the gardens, plots and borders. He held this position until last year when his health forced him to retire.

His chief aim was to make the Olds School of Agriculture one of the show places of Alberta. The hundreds of visitors who come each summer to enjoy the wealth of floral beauty and the spacious green lawns must be a great source of satisfaction to him.

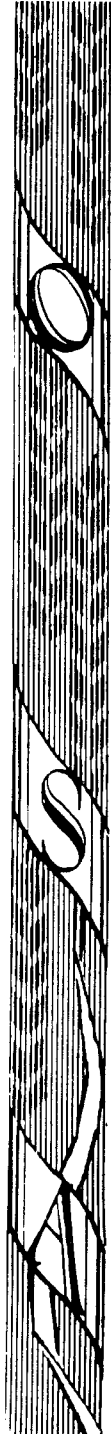

Art's boundless energy and unfailing devotion to the School have been an inspiration to Staff and students alike.

WALTER SCOTT BENN

Mr. Benn joined the Staff of the Schools of Agriculture back in 1920. During the intervening years he taught at Raymond, Claresholm, Vermilion and Olds. He came to Olds in 1930 where he taught English and Mathematics but the things which gave him most satisfaction were his contributions to the social and dramatic life of the School. No request for help along these lines ever went unheeded and the generosity with which he gave his time and talents will not be forgotten.

Walter retired from the Staff last summer and is now engaged in accounting and auditing.

Editorial

THE advent of this 1948 edition marks the cessation of classroom activities for most of us. It is not without a pang of regret that we take leave from a school, staff, and student body that has meant so much to each and everyone of us.

It is the sincere hope of the Year Book Staff that this book may be a source of considerable interest and enjoyment to all who peruse its pages. Perhaps at some future date it will serve as a reminder of bygone College days, so that for a few brief moments we may relive it all again.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Miller, other staff members, students, and business associates for their valuable assistance in making this publication possible.

The Best of Luck to all of you.

Valedictory

It is a great pleasure and privilege to give this address on behalf of the graduating class of 1948.

We gathered here a few short months ago, from the four corners of the Province, and during that time we made many friendships which will be ours for the rest of our lives. Time rolls its ceaseless course and all too soon we must bid farewell to one another; but let us endeavor to keep the bond between us intact. Let us hope that somewhere, sometime, the future will bring us all together again.

Tomorrow we will be gone but we will long remember the noise and laughter and faithful ringing bells which have been so much a part of our Dormitory life. Nor will we soon forget the jokers who put water bombs in our beds, or pepper in our pillows, for they are some of the little humorous incidents which help to make life worthwhile.

Regardless of what our next ventures in life may be, we will, I feel, surely realize benefits from our training received at O.S.A. Apart from knowledge gained from text books, we have learned how to work and play in harmony with our fellow men, an experience which will leave its mark on all of us. Our eyes have been opened to the magnitude of the tasks which lie before us as the men and women of tomorrow. We have been taught to realize that we are living in a world of progress and that we must prepare ourselves in order to successfully fulfil our part in determining our nation's destiny.

It is to you, the staff of O.S.A., that we owe gratitude for our merits of success. As we grow older, I am certain we will realize an even deeper appreciation for what you have so unselfishly given us. With all sincerity we wish you much happiness and prosperity in the future.

Now to everyone, I say goodbye and good luck.

ROY PESTELL.

My Creed

To live as gently as I can,
To be, no matter where, a man;
To take what comes of good or ill
And cling to faith and honor still;
To do my best, and let that stand
The record of my brain and hand;
And then, should failure come to me,
Still work and hope for victory.

To leave some simple mark behind
To keep my having lived in mind;
If enmity to aught I show,
To be an honest, generous foe,
To play my little part, nor whine
That greater honors are not mine.
This, I believe, is all I need
For my philosophy and creed.
—Edgar A. Guest.

Poems

We editors may dig and toil
Till our finger tips are sore,
But some poor fish is sure to say
"I've heard that joke before!"

There was a young lady from Kent,
Who said she knew what it meant
When a man asked her to dine
Fed her cocktail and wine
She knew what it meant—but she went.

He was seated in the sitting room,
And he said unto the light,
Either you or I, old fellow,
Will be turned down tonight.

Who made you fall and let you lay?
Your girl.
Then taunted you with laughter gay,
Your girl.
And who came with you to the prom,
And flirted with your room mate, Tom?
Your girl.

God made man without a good sense of humor so they would love women instead of laughing at them.

A sensible girl is not as sensible as she looks because a sensible girl has more sense than to look sensible.

The Students' Council

THE beginning of the 1947-48 school year found the various committees reorganizing. A keenly contested campaign ensued for the election of officers for the Students' Council. Generous support was evidenced from the student body in the election of the various committees which were set up shortly after the Students' Council began to function.

The following officers were appointed to the Council:

George Braithwaite	President
Howard McDonald	Vice-President
Faye Nelson	Secretary
Allen Bancroft	Treasurer
Campbell Barnes / Hazel Ralston }	Second Year Representatives
Jerry Moffat / Gerry Lush }	Two-in-One Representatives
Dale McRae / June McKnight }	First Year Representatives
Mr. Miller was Staff Representative.

Jake Berger represented the Social Committee while Leslie Olsen and Wally Shields represented the Athletic and Literary Committees respectively.

The Council was responsible for the handling of all student funds and making dispersals to the various committees as was necessary.

Many minor points of concern to the student body were discussed by the Council with a number of very good suggestions coming to the fore.

Making arrangements for the visit from the Vermilion School of Agriculture was one of the largest undertakings this year.

The Students' Council takes this opportunity to thank the student body as a whole for its splendid and whole hearted support throughout the term.

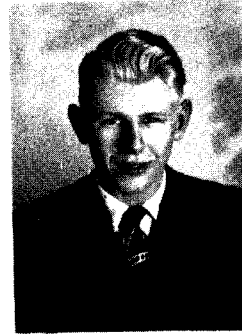

Social Committee

JAKE BERGER
CHAIRMAN —

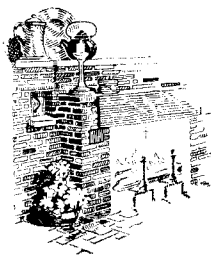

DOROTHY BRAITHWAITE

DICK ANDERSON

EDWARD ARM

Social Committee

UNDER the able guidance of Jake Berger, our genial chairman, the Social Committee helped to arrange many pleasant diversions on long winter evenings. With plenty of music varying from square dances to jungle rhythm, there was ample opportunity for everyone to dance to his favourite number with "that special someone." If you don't believe me, just ask Paulsen. Sunday nights found us grouped around our cherished projector absorbing the educational, sport and comedy films.

Our hats are off to the Social Committee for services rendered beyond the normal call of duty.

Staff Reception

THIS event provided excellent opportunity for new students to meet staff members and fellow students outside of the classrooms. A pie-eating contest was a big hit. Just ask Mr. Carter about that!

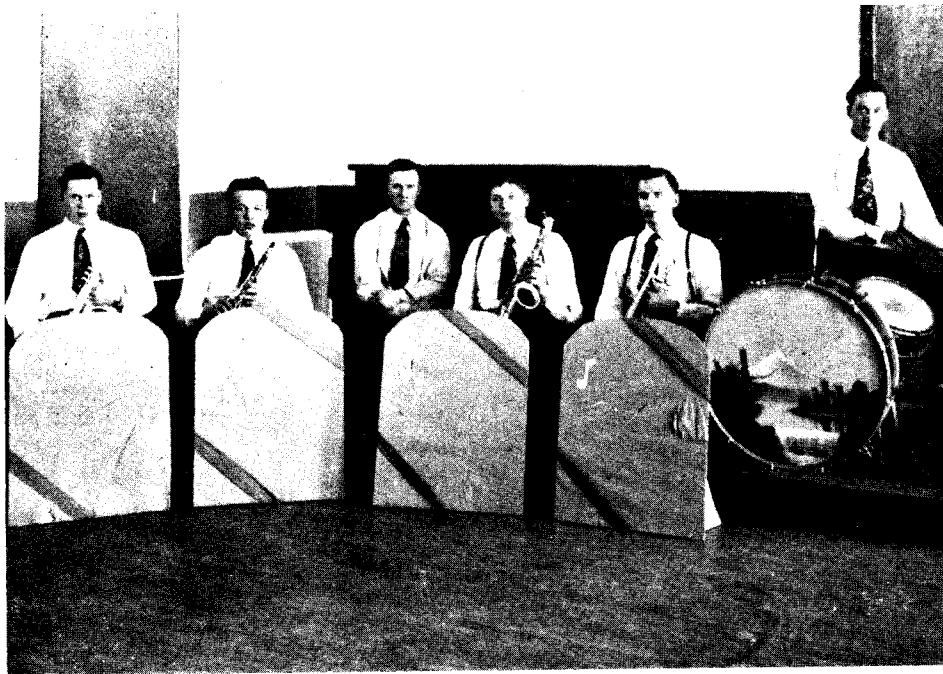

The Students' Orchestra began the first of many lively get-togethers.

Initiation

"FRESHIES" won't forget initiation week for some time. If mothers and dads could but have seen their proteges methinks some may have been disowned for lack of recognition. It was all taken in good spirit, even though the girls sported corsages of onions in their hair while the boys grew some dandy beards.

The Friday night dance, with its colorful costumes, more than made up for slight discomforts suffered throughout the previous week.

Costume prizes were awarded to Sally Cunningham and Jim Lank.

Students' Orchestra

MUCH credit is due to our orchestra who have provided us with some very fine entertainment throughout the term. Considering the lack of time available for practices it is remarkable that the boys should do so well.

No matter whether the call was for a square dance or a modern fox trot, we were immediately obliged with some wonderful rhythm which set all feet tapping and brought young couples out on the floor in full force.

We are proud of our orchestra. They have done a fine job.

O.S.A. Commandments

And Mr. Miller spake all these words, saying: I am the Master which hath brought thee from afar to these halls of learning.

Thou shalt have no other principal while I am here.

Never fail to attend all thy classes or thy pocketbook shall be sore smitten.

Consort ye not with evil spirits or be found in the presence of or suffering from the effects thereof if thou wouldst remain one of us.

Six and one half days shalt thou labor and on the seventh, thou shalt complete all that work which the wise ones have bestowed upon thee.

On the fifth night there shall be a Lit and woe betide any who participate not therein.

Thou shalt linger not after the last bell in the sacred precincts of either the dining room or the first floor sitting room or great wrath shall descend upon thee.

Verily I say unto you, when one Sutherland cometh into the room have thy pen filled, thy note book opened and thy hand ready, for he dictateth rapidly.

Shirkest thou not the subjects of one Miss Caverhill or great grief will overtake thee.

And there would be many class discussions in which thou shouldst participate or lose marks therein.

Verily thou shouldst arise early on the morn of the sixth day e'en though the revelry of the night before hath caused great weariness within if thou wouldst not cause comment.

Thou shalt not make merry in the class in Physics or thou wilt provoke the wrath of the instructor therein.

Even as I speaketh thou pay heed for I know what is best.

And if thou doest all that I have told thee surely thou shalt rise to great heights of success.

Literary Committee

WALLY SHIELDS
CHAIRMAN

CASSIE HERMAN

ROBERT DEW

UNDER the able chairmanship of Wally Shields and the supervision of F. Jorgenson the Literary Committee arranged each Friday night entertainment. These programs were made possible by various student classes as well as outside talent.

Literary Activities

THE season opened with a radio show put on by the Second Year Class for the entertainment of all, and particularly to welcome our new students. Second Year's next contribution was a Barn Dance, held shortly after New Years, an event that drew an exceptionally large crowd of true "Westerners," all of whom enjoyed themselves immensely.

Two very good programs were sponsored by the Two-in-One Class, bringing to light much previously hidden talent. Their second performance lent itself well to audience participation due to the inclusion of bingo games, fortune telling, jitney dances, with numerous other attractions all combined in Carnival style. Thank you, Two-in-Ones.

First Year students can congratulate themselves on providing two evenings of rather unique entertainment. They show every indication of producing some good entertainment when they return next year.

The visit of our V.S.A. neighbors occasioned the presentation of an all star program that made a big hit with residents and visitors alike.

A round-table discussion and a debate were presented by representatives from the boys and girls respectively. Results of the girls' discussion would seem to indicate that woman's place may well be in the business world as well as in the home.

Mr. Ralph Peacock entertained once again this year with a fine program of varied vocal selections.

Our report would not be complete without due mention of the Calgary Variety Girls who captured the hearts of many a local swain with their vocalling, or was it the come hither look bestowed upon certain favoured individuals?

Class Plays

"GOOD MEDICINE"

An amusing play put on by the Second Year Class. It is a one-act comedy built around the story of a young doctor and his wife living in a small office; portraying some of their experiences in attaining success through a rich sophisticated lady who is looking for a physician to take the position as chief of staff in her hospital.

"THE DUMMY"

Is a comedy one-act play performed by five members of the Two-in-One Class.

Excerpt—Officer: "What do you know?"

Roy: "I d-d-d-d-don't . . ."

"NOT QUITE SUCH A GOOSE"

Members of the First Year Class portray the trials and tribulations of a seventeen-year-old boy and his sister's girl friend who eventually diverts his boyhood activities along love's stormy path.

The Chinook has provided us with a variety of interesting reading throughout the term. Perhaps the cartoons and "Overheard" columns received the most attention with considerable interest shown in the well written Sports Events.

Much credit is due to Editor Hazel Ralston and Staff, who, in co-operation with our hard working typists, made these editions possible.

Athletic Activities

DURING the past term, athletic activity has greatly promoted comradeship, fellowship and general spirit within the school. Sports have generally helped in building healthy bodies and counteracting disease.

With this thought in mind the Athletic Committee with the aid of the staff have successfully carried out an extensive program in all lines of sport. School teams in Hockey and Basketball were organized. Other sports included Bowling, Curling, Badminton, Table Tennis and house league Hockey. This wide assortment provided recreation for everyone.

Athletic Committee also sponsored a contest for "O.S.A. Queen," which aroused much interest among students and staff alike.

We wish to thank our coaches, Mr. Mead and Mr. Christie, and especially Mr. Miller, for his co-operation in all our athletic activities.

Field Day

Hockey

HOCKEY was a most popular sport at O.S.A. this term. With new uniforms, a tactful hockey team was produced under the guidance of Mr. Mead, coach, and Wallace Shields, co-coach. Mr. Armstrong proved to be a very enthusiastic manager.

The team entered the Rosebud League and finished the year in second place. On the whole, the team was well-balanced and played many interesting and hard fought games.

Douglas Havens, Dick Havens and Les Olsen proved to be the high scoring forward line. Much credit for the success of the team went to Dennis Ratcliff for his superb goal tending.

All members of the team worked hard and learned considerable about the rudiments of hockey.

House league Hockey was also organized.

Badminton

Badminton this year at O.S.A. was not nearly as popular as was the case in the past. A few students were quite enthusiastic all year.

A tournament was held and the winners were as follows:

Ladies' Singles—L. Hale
Men's Singles—D. Ratcliff
Men's Doubles—D. Ratcliff and D. Havens
Mixed Doubles—O. Smith and L. Hale

Curling

A GREAT deal of curling enthusiasm was exhibited by the students at O.S.A. this year. Under the leadership of Lorne Clapson twelve rinks were organized, each having three boys and one girl. The rink skipped by Jacob Berger was the only one undefeated.

A bonspiel was sponsored by the Olds High School and O.S.A. with Robert Dau's rink of Bill Hill, Jack Lester and Cassie Herman winning fourth in the Grand Challenge event. First prize in the Secondary Event went to Lorne Clapson's rink of Philip Heather, Dick Anderson and Edel Andreasen. A rink skipped by Bill Hilz won fourth in the secondaries. The team members were Harold Skretting, Louis Bliss and Gil Corbiel.

The V.S.A. Visit

Yes, February 13th was the day! Vermilion School of Agriculture sent a representation of twenty-seven students to the O.S.A. in order to compete in the annual athletic contests. Perhaps Friday the thirteenth was not too good a day for the trip because some of the team members with Mr. Hawker at the controls did not fare too well. Two flat tires and a final catapult into the ditch was almost more than the enthusiasm of the occasion could stand.

We had a reception committee all set to greet the visitors on arrival. However, because of bad roads V.S.A. got here after dusk and not even the camera man was able to do his stuff.

An all-star Lit featured the opening programme for the occasion. We gathered from conversation with the V.S.A. students that they enjoyed the "tea party" of Longeway, Lore, MacDonald and Hill. Good going boys! After the Lit, the floor was cleared for the men's basketball game. In a rather one-sided contest O.S.A. won over V.S.A. by a score of 68 - 10. Mr. Hawker coached the visitors while Herb. Christie called the play for the Colts. Ratcliffe, Bancroft and Pontarollo were the sharpshooters for the O.S.A.

Following this our orchestra the "Top Hatters" took over the stage and a very fine dance followed. The boys from our sister school were bedded down in D-2 and the girls in the third floor sitting room.

On Saturday morning the visiting students attended some of the regular classes and spent the remainder of the morning surveying the local set-up. More than one wary eye was cast in the direction of our new Mechanics Building. Right after lunch all were treated to a very fine display of Judo by Messrs. Senda and Katsuda of Raymond. We were fortunate to have them stop off from their exhibition trip to the University of Alberta. The ensuing "show" staged by Mr. Carter and Reno Pontarollo seemed, however, to stir up an extra bit of enthusiasm. Hurrah for the Staff! Carter was the winner.

At three o'clock much more than the usual excitement seemed to be apparent. This was the time that the hockey contest began in the Olds Arena. One of the fastest and most exciting games of the season followed. The O.S.A. was defeated 4-3 in overtime. Both teams played fast, clean hockey. V.S.A. tallied twice in the first period and Boulton and McKinnon tallied in the second period to tie the score. Vermilion scored first in the third period and Dan MacKinnon tied it up by scoring in the last 15 seconds. In overtime V.S.A. tallied once and the final score of a very good and close game was 4-3 for the visitors. The visitors were coached by J. R. Roxburgh and W. H. T. Mead coached the O.S.A. team and incidentally has performed a very fine and useful job for our school in that respect.

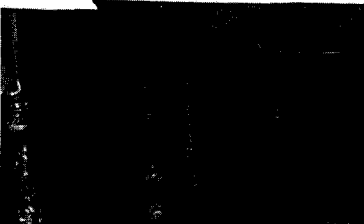

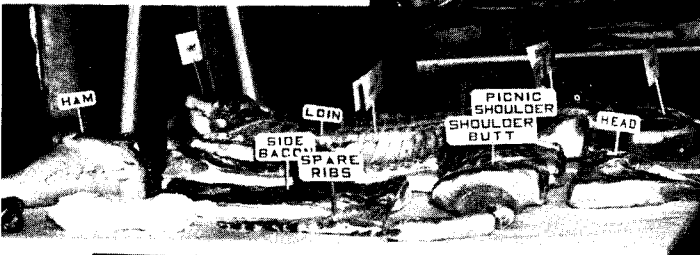

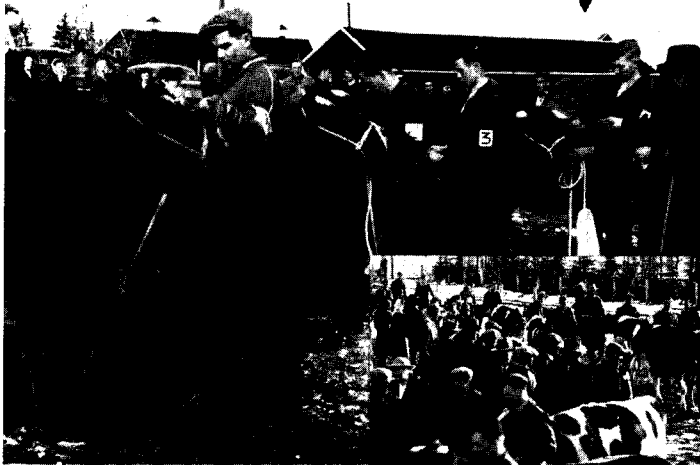

After the hockey game and hearty supper the girls' basketball game was played. It was a hard fought game all the way with thrills aplenty. O.S.A. won by a score of 33-22. Although V.S.A. had some good plays they were not quite up to Nancie Hubbard and her mates. One of the visiting students was heard to say, "Oh to have a Nancie on our team." Congratulations to Herb Christie for a fine job of coaching.

A short dance closed off most of the excitement for the week-end. A few well chosen words from our Students' Union President, George Braithwaite was aptly replied to by Bob Shopland who heads the V.S.A. Students' Council. The V.S.A. visit was highly successful and a sentiment of deep respect for our northern colleagues was evident after their departure on Sunday morning.

Au Revoir V.S.A.! We were glad you came and we shall look forward to seeing you next year.

WALLY SHIELDS.

A Message to the '48 Graduates

On behalf of the Olds School of Agriculture Alumni Association, I welcome this opportunity of addressing a message to the graduating class of '48.

Once again O.S.A. is about to send out into the world a class of graduates. Once again the Alumni Association has the pleasure of welcoming another year's graduates to its ever-growing numbers.

The average graduate of the O.S.A. is a loyal Alumnus no matter where in this wide world he resides. However, unless there is a means of having contact with the school and its affairs, he is apt to feel that he is out of touch. He is just as interested, just as loyal, and gets the same thrill from the achievements of his Alma Mater as ever, but time and distance make him of less value unless he is constantly informed of the doings and progress of his school and classmates.

The Alumni Association is the instrument which links the school and its alumni in a chain of steady relationship. It permits one to keep in continuous intimate contact with the old school and to follow the careers of former classmates and friends.

Our Alumni Association is a strong, healthy youngster and has been functioning with renewed vigor during the past year. Even with its limited membership and limited capital, the Association is sending out several hundreds of Reviews quarterly; it sponsors the Reunion Dance in the fall and the Alumni Short Course during the summer months.

To belong to the O.S.A. Alumni Association is a real privilege. No ex-student should require an invitation to become a member. Such interest would improve the position of the Alumni, enabling it to enter larger fields of endeavor and increase its usefulness. As students, your school felt a duty to you; as an alumnus, your fidelity is to the school. Remember this and always hold it dear.

Our best wishes go with you into the future. May you have your just share of happiness and prosperity in the years to come.

K. G. SWITZER,
Secretary-Treasurer.

W. K. ROSS
Farm Manager

Farm Staff

This book would not be complete without some mention of the Farm Staff, who have constantly provided us with livestock for judging, butchering, or show purposes.

Mr. Ross, farm manager, came to O.S.A. in 1936 from the Oliver Farm.

W. McLean is farm foreman.

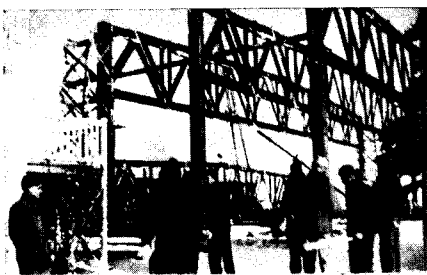

W. L. (Bill) Burns, chief herdsman, is a veteran of over 20 years' service at O.S.A.

Other Farm Staff members include: H. Cross, A. R. Adams, G. Ballantyne, George Brown, Clarke Owens, G. McGillivray, O. B. Hansen.

We wish to thank you for your kind cooperation and patience with the multitude of students who pass through here each year.

CLASSES

SEWING CLASS

Cooking Class

We have been learning progressively the secrets of a successful cook. Although we were a noisy bevy at times, we did mean business. Those doubtful of the fact just had to watch our rising smoke and falling cream-puffs.

Every day brought a new experience. Kay Stelfox and Sally Cunningham discovered the difference between a vegetable juicer and a meat grinder. Lorna Hale, Gladys-Jean Keough and Rose-Marie Fontaine found the secret formula for making a flop out of a perfectly fool-proof recipe for pie crusts. Mrs. Nelson, (Faye) might convince us yet that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

Our greatest ordeal was that of being waitress and hostess in the apartment. But each one has lived through it to find the experience most beneficial. We all agree that it took the patience of an angel to be the ever faithful, yet cheerful victim of our concoctions—and we wish to express our sincerest thanks to Miss McIntyre for her kind encouragement.

Sewing

The sewing class this year, proved exceedingly beneficial and interesting.

Miss Moseson's biggest task was to adjust garments to the girls as they steadily put on weight and "that new look."

The highlights of the term were Lorna's key-hole neck line, Gladys Jean's house-coat which Faye Nelson intends using for awnings, Arleen trying to fasten her skirt from the inside, Gerry putting the placket on the bottom of the pyjama leg and Dorothy attempting to find a "feed formula" for her machine.

Nevertheless, under the capable instruction of Miss Helen Moseson, the girls mastered many things from learning to thread a sewing machine to making their own graduation dresses.

Handicraft

This is the practical part of our Household Administration course.

The projects proved to be wide ranging while leathercraft held top-spot in interest. The articles varied such as gloves, purses, billfolds, key cases and even moc-casins. Other work included knitting, crocheting, mending, patching, fancy work and stenciling.

The girls thoroughly enjoyed working with Miss Gwen Caverhill.

Home Nursing

With such competent teachers as Miss Heaver and Miss McKim, both registered nurses, how could our nursing classes be other than interesting.

From the first fundamentals in health we went on to the professional care and nursing of a patient in one's own home. Our patient must get his daily bed bath says Miss Heaver. Are you of the same opinion Marg Hallet? Anyway, with the one you gave Gladys Mainland she won't be needing one 'til graduation day—she hopes.

We all think Miss McKim would make the sweetest mother. She has such a way with dolls.

In case of emergency in years to come, just call up any of the Two-in-One girls. We'll be on the spot with our first-aid kits.

FIELD HUSBANDRY

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY

Field Husbandry

The course is taught this year by Mr. Yauch, formerly our Chemistry and Soils instructor. His vast experience both in the theoretical and practical field has proved a boon to all of us privileged in studying under him. The importance of this course cannot be over emphasized in view of the wide variety of material covered. Special stress is placed on Soil Conservation, Crop Rotations and the use of Good Clean Seed.

Plant study merges with our Botany Course to give a more thorough insight into those species commonly met with on Western Canada farms.

It is felt that much has been gained from the informal discussion groups dealing with some of the foremost problems confronting the farmer of today.

Animal Husbandry

Mr. Christic gave us the lectures and supervised the practical work in this important subject. The course covers the theory and practice of breeding, feeding and livestock management with special stress laid upon various breeds, animal genetics and nutrition. Practical work covers butchering, judging of dairy and beef cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Through the year we had the privilege of listening to Mr. Mead on livestock improvement and Mr. Ross on the preparation of livestock for show purposes.

The animal husbandry course as taught at the O.S.A. serves to broaden our knowledge and will undoubtedly be invaluable to us in the future.

METAL WORK

is one of the most practical courses offered at O.S.A. Under the capable instruction and guidance of Mr. Armstrong the boys make anything from chain hooks to the most complicated jacks. Instruction is also given in the art of welding and the use of modern tools. When the boys have learned to operate safely the various shop machines, they are encouraged to make many useful articles to take back to the farm.

FARM MECHANICS

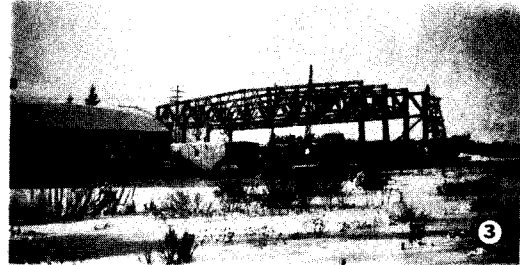

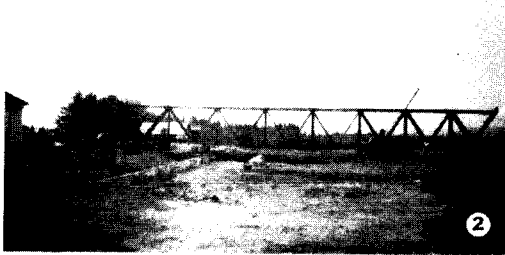

involves both theoretical and practical training. Mr. Parkinson deals with the various tillage, seeding and harvesting machines. Special emphasis is placed on the care and maintenance of farm engines. Students have the opportunity of assembling a variety of machinery as it comes into the shop where they learn the essential care and maintenance requirements of each.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

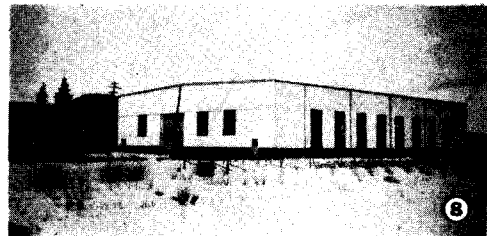

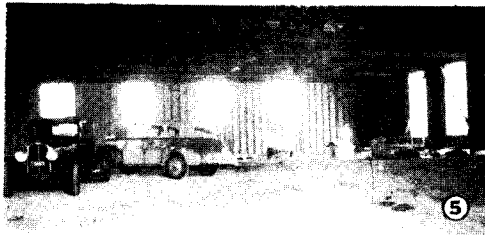

Through the untiring efforts of our genial instructor, Mr. Carter, both boys and girls learn the various phases of woodworking. The keen interest promoted along these lines is carried away by the students who will benefit greatly when they return home.

with the ALL-CROP HARVESTER

Cutting an inch from the ground, the All-Crop Harvester demonstrates here how difficult crops can be salvaged.

This entire field of wheat was flat on the ground. The All-Crop Harvester's wide, spiral bar cylinder handled tangled straw up to six feet long.

Through a wide range of hard-to-harvest crops, from viny beans to grain with green undergrowth, the All-Crop saves them all.

Select any diversified rotation you wish, and have your own All-Crop Harvester ready to go as the crops ripen. You will find it priced sensibly. Allis-Chalmers believes that quality and full value are still the right of every purchaser. That is the only way inflation can be checked.

Bowling

BOWLING was a new attraction at O.S.A. this year with many students participating.

A league was formed under the direction of H. MacDonald, C. Barnes and P. Berger. Fifteen teams were assembled each having a captain with five boys and one girl on each. In top place was S. Lore's team of D. McKinnon, D. Nelson, G. Brandingen, D. Ratcliff and R. Boulton. The high men's single captured by W. Hilz with an average of 189, the lady was June McKnight with 120 average.

Prizes are to be given to high team, high gent and high lady at the end of the season. A bowling tournament between the Olds High School and O.S.A. was won by the Olds High School by a slim margin.

Koster: "The next room is on fire."

Mr. Christie: "Why worry me? Am I in the next room?"

Norm: "What's that noise upstairs?"

Cassie: "That's just maw draggin paw across the floor."

Patron (at theatre) "Hey! Sit down in front."

Russel: "Don't be ridiculous. I don't bend that way."

Some girls look as if they had been poured into their dress and had forgotten to say "when."

Mr. Jorgenson: "I'm dismissing you five minutes early,—please go quietly so as not to wake the other classes."

"We Aim to Please"

DAWN OF A NEW ERA !

The sunrise looks no different . . . blossoms smell the same . . . the chirp of the robin is unchanged, but we are living in an exciting new world.

Our scientists have probed the secrets of nature to give us super crops, atomic energy, and other wonders that promise a more abundant life for us all. Our statesmen are striving to transform the word "Peace" into a way of life—to make all nations good neighbors. We are on the threshold of a new age in which all mankind may enjoy a fuller, happier life.

John Deere is helping to shape this new world. Our factories are tempering a century of manufacturing experience with war proven techniques and post war developments to create and build new and better farm equipment. Our facilities are constantly growing and we are working around the clock to help produce a flood of new implements the Canadian farmer must have to feed our hopeful new world.

Science Serves Agriculture

The scientific advancement of farming methods in the last century has been phenomenal. Science is the many unseen "hired hands" who, behind the scenes, toil unceasingly . . . tirelessly for the farmer; to help him do a more efficient and profitable job. Gone are the back-breaking, hit and miss days of our forefathers . . . in their place are streamlined, time and labor saving methods that produce bigger yields of better crops . . . with less labor and lower costs.

An important part of this scientific progress is due to COCKSHUTT'S extensive program of constant research and engineering development . . . to meet the ever increasing need of higher production and lower costs. The result is Cockshutt's great field-tested, farm proved line of equipment, designed and built for longer life . . . greater efficiency and economical performance . . . a line that meets EVERY agricultural requirement of EVERY farmer.

The students and graduates of our educational institutions stand today on the threshold of a precarious era in the course of world events. Indeed the challenge of uncertainty confronts everyone, as conflicting ideologies which prevail among nations prevent the accord for which we hopefully struggle.

In the years that lie ahead, Canada's young people will be called to give leadership in guiding its affairs and relationships with other countries. Canada's record of achievement is already enviable and as our nation attains further distinction, Canadian youth will flourish and prosper . . . Success to Each of You!

Reclaimo Refines Oil Right in the Motor

The care of farm machinery is of vital interest to the student of agriculture. RECLAIMO, the Super-Filter Refiner, is an important asset to the farming industry in the all-important care of farm machinery. For example, a motor that has been run for the equivalent of 500 miles has accumulated enough water in the oil to become a motor hazard due to the corrosive action on the bearings. That is why large trucking firms and tractor operators use RECLAIMO in all their motors.

Learning Versus Ignorance . .

The philosophers in all ages have remarked that the greatest handicap to the advancement of any people is ignorance, the inability of the people to distinguish between the true and the false. So people are apt to support the demagogue with his alluring but entirely wrong policies.

The feet of the students of the Olds School of Agriculture are placed firmly on the paths which lead to learning. Such students in after life will unquestionably be a steadying force in their communities; an influence for good. They will be able to demonstrate in their daily lives the great advantage of learning over ignorance.

Woodward: "I had an awful fright last night."

Gladys Jean: "Can this coat be worn out in the rain without hurting it?"

Fur Salesman: "Lady did you ever see a skunk wearing an umbrella."

Mr. Miller: "This exam will be given on the honor system. Please sit three seats apart in alternate rows. An instructor will be placed between every two students."

Mr. Jorgenson: "There are two words I wish you would refrain from using. One is 'swell' the other is 'lousy.'"

Pestell: "O.K., what are the words?"

Harold Skretting, after a night out, woke up and grabbed at hair brush instead of the hand mirror. "Ye, Gods," he exclaimed, "but I need a shave."

Polecat: A small animal to be killed with a pole. The longer the pole the better.

Mr. Yauch: "I hope I didn't see you looking at your book Jake."

Jake: "I hope you didn't too."

Charlie: "I dreamed last night that I proposed to the most beautiful girl in the world."

Gladys Jean: "And what did I say?"

Kevin McDowell: "I was born an Englishman. I live an Englishman, and I'll die an Englishman."

Mr. Keith: "Hoot mon! Hae ye nae ambition?"

Mr. Miller (meeting his class for the first time) "—and on this paper I want your names, not your signatures."

Phil: "My agent tells me that with my voice I should stand out in the movies."

Gus: "Yes, out in the alley."
